BANQUET OF WORKMEN

In Peerless Hall Attended by Eight Hundred People.

At 8 o'clock last night the three local ession at the Consistory temple and George Washington. The members were seated in a body in the front of the Auditorium hall. The officers of the different lodges occupied places on the The stage was very effectively decorated with colors arranged about a bust of Washington of heroic size. About 500 people were present to witness the exercises, which were very protty and impressive.

The opening address was made by Rev. A. E. Dubber, who spoke on the relation of Masonry to the church. The Consistory quartette in their usual excellent style sang "Come Unto Me," after which the invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. B. Slutz.

The address of the evening was made by Judge H. C. Sluss, who spoke in a patriotic vein of the work of Washington as a Mason and particularly as a statesman, patriot and soldier. He said that the spirit of the movements set on foot Washington controlled the United States today an dalways had. He spoke of the justness, of the genius of the republic and the great growth of the country as the outcome of Wsahington's life work. The judge's remarks were listened to with much interest and appreciation. The full program of the evening fol-

A. O. U. W. BANQUET. Peerless Lodge 271, A. O. U. W., spread the evening out with a good substantial glitter at the hall on East First street. The entire second floor of the old court house was turned into a banquet hall and auditorium. Five tables the full length of Armory hall were spread with good fruit, oysters and all the estables of a first-class banquet. Two hundred guests were seated each time and the tables were filled three times, which crowd did not include any of the musicians, lodge officers in charge of the entertainment, waiters, etc. Probably seven hundred people were fed. Hal McCoy's mandolin first-class music both in the banquer room and lodge hall, so that there was music for the banquet and the social all the time. This is probably the largest banquet ever spread in Wichita. Probably thirty gallons of oysters, four bushels of boxes of crackers and nine acres of smiles were used. Dr. W. W. Minick presided over the dispensation of the latter. After the banquet the tables were cleared away and dancing indulged until midnight.

The following committees had charge of the entertainment: Reception-A. A. Reeside, O. J. Taylor, T. M. Powell, George Beal, C. A. Baker, Sam McCreary, J. T. McDonald.

Executive committee-Fred Bell, W. W. Minick, E. Root, J. T. McDonald, T. M. Powell, B. F. Dawson, T. I. Adams. Walters-Harry Kerns, T. I. Adams, J. Papes, E. F. Davis, J. W. Shreve, C. Matzk, U. G. Bartlett, George Dobson, G. M. Beers, F. A. Reed, J. M. Rambo, H. Wilhite, Dick Poor, G. D. Owen, Blat.

One of the most interesting events at the entertainment was the two songs. "My Old New Hampshire Home" and 'She Was Happy Till She Met You," ng by battery A's quartette, composed of Harry Gwynn, sopranot Ernest Beard, tenor; Lew Baker, baritone; Albert o several tumultous encores and were ruit by Mr. Dawson, a member of the MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"A STRANGER IN NEW YORK." Next month at the Crawford theater Hoyt's phenomenal success, "A Stranger in New York," will be presented identically the same as given at Hoyt's Theater, New York, during a prosperous run, An enthusiantic critic of one of the New York dailies describes Mr. Hoyt's latest work as follows: "A Stranger in New O York" is a bouquet culled from all that is prettiest in the Hoyt garden. It is the composer, the scenic artist the melot 1. Emporia avenue, Mead's add 200 their highest talents, and for which Dame Nature has picked her handsomest women 5000 It is the glimax in the series of Hoyt successus which began fifteen years ago 19 and which have climbed higher until would seem that money and brains had reached their final end. Such stage setgo tings have never been seen before even the furniture especially carved being carried. Fun bubbles, effervescent, in every line. Summarized and condensed, 'A Stranger in New York' can properly pany will be seen in this new comedy, headed by Mr. Paul F. Nicholson, Jr., Tom Martin, Douglas Flint, Charles Hooker, Harry Rogers, Sydney Grant, Augustus Coletti, Frederick Lauder, Miss MaBelle Davies, Miss Norton, Margaret Lee, Rota Riley and Master Maurice.

The production of "Faust" given at the Club last night by the Morey Stock con pany was a genuine surprise to all who expected to witness an ordinary popular price performance. The presentation was in many ways superior to any of the big productions seen here in past years. The electrical effects were new and novel and in several instances exceedingly start-

Mr. Bennett displayed a clever concep tion of the character of Mephistophies and was greeted with a generous ap plause upon his appearance before the curtain between the last acts. The interpretation of Marguerite by Miss Luella Morey was also of a high order and would not suffer by comparison with the work of any of the stars who have essayed that beautiful role in the production of Morrison, Griffith or Montague.

The supporting company was well cast and made the performance so great a success that the "Faust" of the Morey con pany will long be remembered by Joplin theater goers.-Joplin Herald.

On next Monday evening Leavitt's gorgeous speciacular extravaganza, "The Spider and Fly," will be the attraction at the Crawford, presented by a large company of forty competent artists, and embellished with startling scente effects and costly costumes. The music of "The Spider and Fly" is entirely up to the closing century standard, full of vim and melody. Among the long list of operatic, comedy, vaudeville and spectacular favorites is Lettle Kendall, operation prima donna; Isabelle Underwood, dramatic contralto; Georgia Putnam, the well known burlesque and extravaganza queen; Madge Marston, operatic soprano the Howard Sisters and Morrisey Sisters, acrobatic and sensational dancers. The musical features of the company comprise Carrie Hilliard, harp and violin so loist; the celebrated metropolitan banjo, song and dance artist Ethel Thornton and the famous Romalo Brotheres, Les Passports, the Hewitts, Leando Brothers Andy Morris, Charles H. Kenney, Walter Hast and George Moran, all well known novelty and vaudeville features A superb chorus and ballet of twenty pretty girls. An entire car load of scenery and electrical effects are carried by this enormous extravaganza at a heavy expense, and the production will be given in our city in its entirety.

The Beach and Bowers minstrels were at the Grand last night, and will be there again tonight. They were greeted by a large audience and they all agree that it was one of the best, if not the best, minstrel show which has been seen Their musical numbers were fine; their chorus work and "go" were up to date. They cracked new jokes and told new talea. But the greatest things for the public eye were the acrobatic trio and the song and dance. Kenno and LaBarre are without doubt the best on the road. The show concludes with an exhibition of one of the finest troupes of performing dogs in the country and the curtain goes down with a shout of enthusiasm.-Ogden Standard, October 25.

"TRIP TO CHINATOWN." Manager Martling announces Hoyt's A Trip to Chinatown" in January. He received the following from Mr. Fred E. Wright, who, in addition to "A Trip to Chinatown," is directing the tours of "A Black Sheep," "A Hole in the Ground," and "A Contenfed Woman." "I was rather disappointed at the busihopes that the business of "A Trip to Chinatown" will be much better. You can promise your patrons absolutely and positively the best Hoytian performance ever given in your city. Your ver FRED E. WRIGHT."
